OFFICERS PICK UP 2 COUNTERFEITERS

Sheriff and Deputy Take in Pair of Suspects on Tip of Section Foreman

THIRD MAN SOUGHT

Search on For Remaining Member of Crew Known to Have Been in This Vicinity

Deputy Sheriff Earl Bishop returned yesterday from Jackson valley with the last of the trio of supposed counterfeiters, picked up on a call from Willits early Thursday morning. Bishop, with Officer Jud Rich of Willits took up the man's trail early in the morning after passing most of Wednesday night on the lookout for him.

Mendocino county's iron-clad hostelry is holding two brothers, awaiting indictment on counterfeiting charges, because of a chance remark made by Frank Sierck, Northwestern Pacific section foreman of Ukiah.

Wednesday evening Sierck met Sheriff Dick Williams on the street and after passing the time of day asked if Williams was looking for two suspicions-looking characters. Williams' inquiry brought out the fact that the section crew under Sierck had seen two men headed toward Largo, laden with blanket rolls and suit cases, who showed signs of wanting to be unobserved.

Descriptions furnished Williams by Sierck tallied so nearly with that furnished the sheriff's office of two of the three men suspected of passing spurious coins in Lake county that Williams and Deputy Wayne Crawford immediately set out to investigate and while making inquiries near Largo the men were taken into custody.

The two men are A. L. Gould, 37, and W. E. Gould, 44. Both have been in trouble on similar accounts before, the elder having served an 18-month term at McNeil's island, being released about a year ago. The younger brother has been picked up on suspicion, but has never served time. He has been employed at times in SERA work in this county and both have been drifting about the district for two years.

First intimation received by Sheriff Williams that counterfeit money was being circulated in this section came from Sheriff Taylor Day of Lake county after three men had visited the E. P. Hazelwood resort on June 27, leaving some of their bogus coins in the till. Jake Thom, chief of Willits police, next notified Williams that two men had passed out some of the "dollars" there on Sunday.

Investigation set in motion here brought out the fact that A. L. Gould had a record of counterfeiting and that he had been arrested two years ago at Willits on a charge of non-support, which hooked him up with the possibility of being concerned with the appearance of bad money in that vicinity.

After the arrest of the two men Wednesday evening Sheriff Williams and Deputy Earl Bishop met Taylor Day of Lake county in Willits and carried on a quiet search among the rodeo crowd for a third member of the gang Wednesday night. In this they were joined by Chief Thom and his officers.

E. P. Hazelwood and son of Lake county accompanied Sheriff Day to Ukiah today and identified the men as the ones who passed the bum money at his resort on the night of June 26.

The trio specialized in imitation silver dollars of 1922. None of the coins were found on the two men arrested Wednesday. The sheriff's office, however, has five of them collected from victims. They are crude as to weight and resonance and should be easily detected in handling, and they are considerably off color.

BLACK WIDOW VICTIM

Mrs Agnes Boston, Indian woman of Redwood Valley, was bitten on the hand by a black widow spider the first of the week and for a time was in serious condition and suffered extreme pain. She was attended by Dr. E. C. Bennett and is at present recovering.

W. E. Foster, a former wellknown coast resident, arrived in Ukiah a few days ago from his home in Berkeley and is visiting Ed Zimmerman. Foster and Zimmerman went up to Willits on the Fourth to attend the big celebration.

September Roundup Plans to Be Made At Monday Meeting

A meeting of the business men has been called for 7:30 Monday evening, July 8, in the chamber of commerce rooms to discuss the coming fall Roundup and outline plans for financing and promoting the 1935 show.

Dr. Bennett, owner of the grounds, has proposed that a committee of Ukiah men be appointed to handle the finances, with a treasurer to have charge of all expenditures. All Mr. Bennett is asking is cooperation sufficient to make the show the biggest and best yet held in Ukiah and a nominal rental for his grounds, with the understanding that all money, in excess of the actual expenses, etc., be placed in a sinking fund to help finance future shows and for such matters as the committee may determine.

Dr. Bennett's attitude toward our Roundup is that it should be of the people, for the people and by the people—with the people having a voice in whatever is done relative to future events.

The meeting Monday will undoubtedly determine whether or not Ukiah is to have a Roundup this fall, or any other fall, and all who want a continuation of our reputation for taking our rodeos seriously should turn out for the meeting and have a part in the discussion. It is the belief that the majority of the businessmen want them continued and will willingly support the kind of show Dr. Bennett is capable of furnishing with the proper help of those to whom will fall the greater share of the benefits.

Estate Accounting To Be Heard Today

Charges brought against Teresa Pronsolini and her administration of the estate of the late Rosa Frati, prominent Philo woman, will be heard in Superior court today in an action instigated by Josephine Brusa, niece of the dead woman, who clams that as administratrix of the estate, Mrs. Pronsolini has withheld certain assets and has not made a full accounting. Reappraisal recently completed on the order of the court resulted in an increase of the administratrix's bond after the assets were found to be some $10,000 above the original appraisel.

Attorney H. L. Preston is representing Mrs. Brusa, who is acting in the interest of heirs of the estate. Mrs. Pronsolini is also a niece of Mrs. Frati.

Mayor Thomas Asked To Salinas Roundup

Mayor Thomas has received an invitation from Mayor V. J. Barlogio of Salinas to be his guest at the California Rodeo and Horse Fair in Salinas on the opening day, Thursday, July 18.

On this day the winner of the California Outdoor Girl contest, conducted by the high schools of the state and sponsored by state superintendent of public instruction, Vierling Kersey, will be determined. The winner and her mother will receive a trip to the Hawaiian Islands.

PLAY TALMAGE SUNDAY

Laytonville's team of dreadnaught baseball artists will cross bats next Sunday with Talmage at the institution lot in what approaches a championship game. Laytonville has the best small town team in this part of the state—so good that they say Fort Bragg has repeatedly side-stepped opportunities to meet them. Talmage is noted for its class of baseball, so the coming contest is bound to be good.

During the high wind of last Sunday afternoon Mrs. Leonard Rhodes of east Smith street was struck by a section of the tin roofing blown from a building in her neighborhood and received a severe cut across her face, extending from eye to chin, across her mouth. Holiday Crowd Witnessed Drowning of Girl at Blue Lakes; Man Held For Act!

W. J. Myers of Woodland is held in the Lake county jail while authorities investigate the circumstances of the drowning of the 14-year-old girl in Blue Lake on the afternoon of the Fourth. The girl is said to have been a relative of Myers and had lived at his home for a considerable time.

Holiday visitors to Blue Lake Thursday witnessed what to them appeared to be a premeditated and determined effort of a man to drown a girl companion. The man, his wife and the girl, the latter said to have been an orphan girl living with the couple, were on the lake at Le Trianon. Witnesses say the man deliberately pushed the girl from the boat and repeatedly broke her hold when she caught the sides and shoved her under the water.

Attracted by the screams, witnesses gathered on the bank and saw the drowning woman come up for the last time within easy reach of the people in the boat and saw the man turn away and swim for the shore. Enraged women threw rocks and sticks at him in an effort to turn him back to the rescue, but he swam out and walked away from the scene. He was taken into custody by the crowd and Lake county officials notified.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Denham of Ukiah were among those who witnessed the tragedy and it was Mr. Denham who took the first steps to detain the man, who refused to talk or give his name.

Sheriff Taylor Day of Lake county says Myers told authorities he had ducked the girl in fun and that both he and the girl had repeatedly gone under the water and that he finally swam away, supposing she would take care of herself.

So far as learned he gave no explanation of his refusal to turn back when the spectators on the bank were pelting him with sticks and stones.

Visitors to the lake recovered the body of the girl, but were unable to resusitate her.

Cattlemen of Lake, Mendocino, Sonoma Meet Here Monday

Between 65 and 75 cattlemen of Lake, Mendocino and Sonoma counties are coming to Ukiah, Monday, June 18, for the organization meeting called by T. B. Ricks, acting chairman of the Mendocino County Cattlemen's association.

Legislative and marketing problems and solution of the range question have become so imperative as to demand immediate attention of cattlemen and the coming meeting is for the purpose of organizing a strong tri-county association for a collective effort.

The Ukiah meeting will be held at the Palace hotel, beginning with a luncheon at 12:30. Arrangements are in charge of A. L. Tracy and advance reservations indicate that interest is sufficient to insure a large attendance.

D. T. Bennitt, Willits attorney, as acting secretary, has sent notice to individual cattlemen of three counties, but attendance is not to be limited to those who receive invitations. All interested in any manner in forwarding the welfare of the industry are welcome to attend.

Farm Building Lost In Tuesday's Blaze

Buildings and equipment belonging to the Thomas Linn ranch south of Ukiah were destroyed by fire last Tuesday noon and buildings on the adjoining farm of Earl Ford were for a time endangered by the grass fire which defied the efforts of volunter fighters for some time.

A small boy and a firecracker are blamed for the destruction, the exploding cracker setting fire to the dry grass. Ukiah firemen who responded to the call were unable to do much because of absence of water connections near the scene, which is a mile and a half south of the city limits. It is said there was no insurance on the property lost.

WILL ENTER PLEA TODAY

Superior court today will hear the plea of J. A. Barton, road foreman of the Fourth Supervisoral district, indicted by the Grand jury last week. Barton was taken into custody and released on $2000 cash bond, which he posted. Charges of grand theft came out of the Grand jury's investigation of alleged uses and abuses practiced in that district by the road overseer.

Cleland Furniture Will Soon Remodel State Street Front

In preparation for enlarging the stock and inaugurating their new policy Cleland's Furniture Store will soon begin remodeling the State street front and entrance. Extensive alteration of the interior will also take place and when completed Clelands will present an altogether different appearance, inside and out.

James Cleland and Robert Reynolds, manager of the store, were in the city last weekend visiting the San Francisco Furniture Exchange, where purchases were made for stocking the new store with a full and complete line of up-to-date furnishings.

Ukiah is to be congratulated, now that she is to be made a convenient center for districts north and south, where those desiring to furnish or refurnish their homes can select their wants for a stock of the best the markets offer, and Clelands deserved commendation and support.

Dates of Oct. 11-12 Empire Fall Meeting

The annual convention of the Redwood Empire association will be held October 11 and 12 in Lake county, it was decided last Friday at a meeting of the association's executive committee in San Francisco.

The executive committee met at the Palace Hotel in the morning, selecting the convention dates and handling other association business. Lake county had previously been designated as the site of this year's convention.

George Anderson of Ukiah, member of the executive committee, attended the conference.

VISIT OLD HAUNTS

Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Smith of Harris, Humboldt county, arrived in Ukiah last Wednesday to renew the many acquaintances formed in years past. Mr. Smith is the son of the late Zeke Smith, one of the prominent pioneer families of Potter Valley. They attended the Willits Frontier Days, July 4.

CAR WAS STRIPPED

Fred Loring was here from Willits Friday.

Simmonds-Levillian Damage Action Lost By Plaintiff; 9 to 3

A jury composed of six men and six women who heard the $30,000 damage action of Simmonds vs. the Pacific Greyhound Stage lines and Edmond Levillian reached a 3 to 9 verdict for the plaintiffs last Tuesday after deliberating less than three hours, and brought to an end, for the present at least, a trial which had occupied the attention of the Superior court during the major portion of the time since June 24, when the jury was empanelled.

Examination of witnesses occupied all of last week and on Saturday the jury was taken by the court to the scene of the accident north of Laytonville where action preceding the crash of cars was checked for their benefit.

Mrs. Cecelia Simmonds of Eureka was injured when crushed between her car and a stalled car she was helping prepare for towing when the Levillian car crashed the stalled machine, being driven out its path by the Greyhound buss occupying the middle of the highway, it is claimed.

Attorneys Charles Kasch and E. S. Mitchell represented Mrs. Simmonds, H. L. Preston was counsel for the stage company and Irving Brazier counsel for Levillian.

Cowboy Breaks Leg At Willits Roundup

George Bowman of Long valley, wellknown rodeo performer, is in the hospital at Willits with a broken leg, the result of being unseated last Wednesday by the horse he was riding in a Willits roundup event. Bowman was thrown over the horses head and it is thought was either kicked or stepped on by the animal. The bone was broken in two places and he will be laid up for several weeks.

Bowman is said to have met with more accidents and suffered more broken bones than any man in the county. He is a brother of Mrs. Ruel Stickney and Mrs. Nina Banker of Ukiah.

Fulkerson Awarded Prized Scholarship

Harold Fulkerson, junior student of Stanford university, will go to Canton, China, in August to enroll in the Lingnan university as one of the exchange scholarships from the United States, awarded for exceptional honors won at their various universities. A score of such scholarships are given annually. The award includes a round-the-world cruise and visits to many places of historical importance.

The group will sail from Seattle and Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Fulkerson of Ukiah will go to that port to be with their son on the sailing day.

OUT OF HOSPITAL

Charles Crawford, who suffered severe cuts and bruises in an accident when his car turned over on the highway recently, was able to leave the Ukiah General hospital last Monday and go to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Crawford, near Largo. Dr. S. L. Rea had given him medical attention.

CHECK CHARGE DROPPED

Paul Mails, who was brought to Ukiah from San Quentin by Deputy Sheriff Bishop last week, after he had just completed a term for passing out "overdrafts," to face a similar charge here, was discharged by Justice of the Peace James Busch on motion of District Attorney Gibson.

WOMAN DEAD, MAN INJURED IN CRASH

Mountain View Woman Killed Near Largo When Motorcycle Tire Blows Out

HOLIDAY TRAGEDY

Party of Four Headed For Humboldt County and Oregon Turned Back By Accident

Tragedy halted the vacation of two Mountain View couples about noon Thursday when an accident near the Charles Crawford ranch north of Largo resulted in the death of one of the women and the serious injury of her husband.

Mrs. Kenneth Farnsworth, 21, received injuries when the rear tire of their motorcycle blew out, from which she died shortly after being rushed to the Ukiah General hospital. Farnsworth, 26, was rendered unconscious and has remained in a semi-conscious condition.

With the Farnsworths were Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Childs, who were riding ahead when the accident happened. Both couples were from Mountain View and both employes of the Pacific Press. The party was headed for Humboldt county for their vacation, with plans for extending their trip into Oregon. They were riding two motorcycles.

Passing motorists picked the injured couple up immediately and brought them to Ukiah.

The body of Mrs. Farnsworth was taken in charge by the Eversole Mortuary and prepared for shipment to St. Helena where the funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. The dead woman's parents came to Ukiah to take care of arrangements.

Farnsworth was still unconscious Friday afternoon with no change in his condition since late Thursday. Dr. Abbott is in charge of his case.

Willits Fight Card Almost a Fade-Out; Small Crowd There

Promoter Clyde Brewer's fight card, held at the Willits rodeo grounds last Wednesday evening, was a poor show, poorly patronized and particularly uneventful.

Only one of the bouts went the 4-round limit, two were over in the first round, one was stopped by the referee in the fourth and the second's towel ended another in round one. The main event went a round and a half when the referee called time out to investigate a bad cut over the eye of one of the contestants, and on examination by Dr. E. C. Bennett the event was over.

Accustomed to seeing packed houses at fights in Ukiah, those from here who attended the show were impressed by the meager attendance at what promised to be a great card. Elimination of the Ukiah contingent would have left but a handful of spectators.

The first event was between Bill Stephens of the Middletown CCC and Jack Livingood of Petaluma. This was stopped in the third.

Joe McArdle and Jack Smith went the full quota of innings to a draw, but with McArdle having the best of round one and a shade the best of the fourth.

In the Klevona-Evans set-to is where the towel came in in the first round. It was a friendly gesture from Klevona's second.

Dykes Carmichael put Don Tresco down and out during the first half of their go, which brought up the main event between Tommy Scholl of Ukiah and Kid Hawk of Petaluma. It was a bad cut over Hawk's eye in the second round which brought an end to the fray, with Scholl showing considerably the best in the brief give and take.

OUR ERROR

In the story of the special election printed in the Dispatch-Democrat last week it was said the election would be held September 13. Inasmuch as September 13 falls on Friday and the combination is undoubtedly unlucky, we are glad to change the time to August 13, which falls on Tuesday and is the correct date.

Willits News

WILLITS, July 1.—This is the coldest summer this section has experienced in a great many years. The spring was very backward because of continuous rains, yet our total rainfall for the season ending yesterday amounts to a trifle under four feet. Last month we would have a few days of hot weather followed by a spell of cool weather and the result is that garden truck is not nearly so tall and thrifty as it usually is at this date. Even the feed in the hills is short and headed out when it was but a few inches tall. Haying is about over and we will have more than enough to carry all of the stock in this section through the winter. A large amount of loose hay has been stored and now the balers are doing their stuff.

The cold spell has also held up travel over the Redwood highway. City people do not like to get out in places where they have to have fires at night to keep warm.

Richfield Oil Co.

The Richfield Oil company has leased the Wagner garage from Mrs. Gertrude Taft for a period of five years. The transfer took place on July 1. The company has subleased the garage and business to H. E. Rogers who took possession the same day. Mr. Rogers has moved his machinery from the May building to the new quarters. A. Gunderson has taken a lease on the May garage and will stock it with new tools and machinery and will continue the business very much the same as it has been run.

Mrs. Taft will continue the Locust Grove service station on the west side of the street. She has conducted the garage business for 15 years and feels that she has earned a rest. She is now arranging to turn her service station into a de luxe place of business and when her plans are completed she will have one of the finest service stations north of San Francisco.

Have Taken Option

Some Los Angeles parties have taken an option on the defunct Northwestern Redwood company holdings, which now belong to a San Francisco bank. This tract contains the old mill town of Northwestern and consists mostly of cutover lands; about 1,300 acres are involved in the deal. This tract is unusually long, extending from the edge of Willits to the Sherwood valley. The parties who now have the option consist of Los Angeles policemen and firemen, and if the deal goes through it is their intention to spend their vacations here with their families. There are still quite a number of habitable houses at old Northwestern, suitable for this purpose. Several of the group have already inspected the property and they were all delighted with the prospect. It is reported that they have more than enough cash on hand to swing the deal and the purchase price is reported to be in the neighborhood of $40,000. This property has been reported sold several times during the past few years, but the other prospects wanted unreasonable terms.

Ship More Wool

Last week Bill Knowles, buyer for the Sacramento Wool company, was here and purchased about 200 bales of wool at around 25 cents per pound. This wool was hauled to the capital city by Vic Ruelle. This company has a cleaning works where the wool is washed, carded and baled and then shipped east to the woolen factories.

Sawyers School Picnic

The alumni association of the old Sawyers school held their annual picnic at the Dave Cook grove last Sunday. There were 72 in attendance, more than 20 of whom attended the old school over 50 years ago. For several years Parker Hall has been advertised as being the oldest living pupil, having attended the school one term, in 1868, but he has lost the honor. Mrs. Mary Simonson, widow of the late Zack Simonson, claims she attended the school in 1862 and one other woman, Mrs. Ole Simonson, attended it about the same time. Mr. Hall now has third place. Mrs. Mary Simonson came up from her home in San Rafael especially for this occasion. Will Fulwider, another old-timer, was here from Humboldt county, also Mrs. Mattie Matlock, who came up from Santa Rosa. The oldest members of the Muir family only have about 60 years to their credit. Roy Blosser, one of the younger students, came up from Berkeley with his family and he delivered a short historical address.

Rodeo Sweetheart

The votes in the Sweetheart of the Rodeo contest were counted Saturday night. Miss Jemma Pedroncelli received almost as many votes as the three other contestants combined. Miss Pedroncelli is a striking blonde a graduate of the Willits high school and country raised and it would have been hard to have made a better choice. The first public dance given in the new park dance pavilion was held that night and the "Sweetheart" was acclaimed as our queen during the Frontier Days celebration.

Ranch Fire

A fire of unknown origin destroyed the house and two large barns on the Charles Underhill ranch in Sherwood valley last week. This ranch is now a portion of the Petty ranch and the loss is almost $10,000, with but little insurance. The house was occupied by three men who are employed in the Sherwood valley sawmill and they were all at work. By the time their attention was attracted the fire had gained such headway that nothing could be saved and the fire spread to the pasture and burned over about 100 acres before it could be put out. The ranch house was comparatively new and in much better shape than ordinary ranch houses. There were two unusually large barns in which most of the farm implements and considerable hay were stored. One of the barns was formerly used by Mr. Underhill as a dairy and contained stalls for 30 cows, which he fed in the winter. It is presumed that the fire caught from either a spark or defective flue.

Death of Mrs. Priest

Mrs. Martha Priest, mother of Mrs. J. E. Allen, died at Grants Pass, Oregon, June 28. On account of illness Mrs. Allen was unable to attend the funeral. Mr. Allen went up and returned home today.

Deceased was a native of Utah and 85 years of age. She has made her home with her four living children for a great many years and lived here most of the time for the past 15 years. She will be remembered as a kindly old lady who devoted most of her time to making fancy work. For some time she has been gradually failing and the end was not unexpected.

Townsend Club

The Willits Townsend club has just received an honor banner which is on display in Judge W. F. Whitney's window. On the banner is inscribed "Quota Honor Trophy," which tells the world that the Willits club is one of the clubs that have gone over the top in all of their activities.

Catholic School

A Catholic school has been opened in the old dining room at Hotel Willits under the direction of two sisters of the Holy Family of San Francisco, which is a missionary order. Besides religious instruction the sisters are giving lessons in various kinds of art work. There will be no charges and any boy or girl, Catholic or not, is welcome to attend the school. This school will continue for one month.

MACY LEAK IMPROVING

Word from Willits tells of the steady improvement of Macy Leak, confined in the Howard Memorial hospital by burns received a month ago in a gas explosion at Laytonville. Another week should find him sufficiently recovered to be removed to his home.

Mrs. Lou Hofman is entertaining her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Weaver of San Francisco, who will be here for another week.

Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Steiert and daughters, Pauline and Mrs. Page Payne of San Francisco, are on a motor tour of the southern part of the state which will include San Diego, Los Angeles and other points of interest.

An Old Relic

Several years ago Judge W. F. Whitney purchased an old bedstead which was made in England in 1830 and was brought to California in a sailing ship that came around Cape Horn during the gold rush. This bedstead is so large that no ordinary room is large enough for it and it is made of solid black walnut fastened together with wooden pegs. It was in the Shin family for five generations and after the death of the last member of the family in Willits a few years ago was purchased by the judge. Recently he had photographs made of the bed and these pictures have already appeared in several of the metropolitan papers with a description of the bed. Last Saturday the Sacramento Bee carried the pictures with a good descriptive article.

That some private shipbuilders "are certainly not above suspicion of willingness to wave the flag or circulate war scares in the plain and simple interests of their own pocketbooks" is the conclusion of the Senate Munitions committee, which says that their record, since 1927, "has not been an entirely pleasant and wholesome story." This just about summarizes the situation, but it comes as no surprise to those who have kept up with the revelations before the committee. That ships built in private yards cost several million more than those constructed in navy yards caused the senators to criticise the Navy department for not having some "yardstick" with which to accurately measure the difference in cost.

The charges of Ewing Y. Mitchell, aired before a senate committee, did not amount to as much as one thought because the witness, repeatedly asked to specify the facts to support his contentions, contented himself for the most part with rehashing items uncovered by previous inquiries. If he hoped that Republican members would take up the issue he managed his testimony very badly, time after time straying to alleged derelictions of the Commerce deparmtent prior to the present administration. His audience dwindled as the hearing continued, and the former official reiterated his statement that he had no direct evidence of graft or corruption.

Business leaders, we are advised, are showing some concern over cancellation of orders, which have developed since the death of NRA, and officials of the new organization fear that a sharp decline in activity may develop. Field agents report much price-cutting and widespread use of "loss leaders" by big and little stores. They also assert that labor standards are being cut. These evils appear in the consumers' goods industries, the service trades and in small establishments generally. In the manufacturing industries labor standards continue to be up to standard. Apparently the cancelled orders come in through anticipation that removal of wage and hour restrictions will mean cheaper prices and that there is no use holding on to orders placed at prices under the old order.

Just now the idea is that congress will go home without enacting any new recovery law, but industry will be invited to submit voluntary codes with the understanding that they will not be passed on until the future NRA policy is decided upon. The president points out that since the court decision lawyers have been searching for a substitute law and that once they thought a suitable act could be based on the right of congress to define "interstate commerce" but that further study revealed difficulties. While the study continues there is not much prospect for im-

John Ham, Jean Gowan Married at Baptist Parsonage

Miss Jean Helen Gowan of Potter Valley and John Thomas Ham of Covelo were married at the Baptist parsonage in Ukiah at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, July 4. The ceremony, witnessed by a small group of family members, was performed by Rev. Claude F. Mosher, pastor of the First Baptist church of Ukiah.

The lovely bride was becomingly attired in a white wool sport suit trimmed in navy blue with white and navy blue accessories. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Gowan, and sister of Don and Jewell Gowan of Potter Valley. She was born in Ukiah, but when three months old moved to Potter Valley where she has since resided. She is a graduate of both the grammar and high schools of that place and is a young woman of fine character and winning personality and is highly respected and generally beloved in the community where she grew to womanhood. She has completed three years of academic work at the University of California and will enter as a senior when the autumn semester opens.

The Gowan family have been prominent residents of this county for the past fifty years.

The bridegroom is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Ham of Covelo, and the grandson of John T. Ham, wellknown pioneer of that section. He was born and raised in Round valley and is a graduate of the schools of that community. He attended the San Mateo junior college last year and will enter junior college in San Francisco this autumn. He plans to complete his education at the University of California. He holds a good position as manager of the water company at Brisbane and Bay Shore, owned by Clyde Henry. The new home will be established in San Francisco.

Following the ceremony, the wedding party, including the parents, brother and sister of the bride, drove to Willits where the wedding luncheon was served.

The young couple proceeded to Round valley to visit a few days at the home of the bridegroom's parents. After spending the weekend in Potter Valley with the bride's relatives, they will return to San Francisco.

A wide circle of friends in this county extend to the young couple every good wish for their happiness and prosperity.

Kansas City Doctor Pays City Annual Visit

Dr. Hezzie Purdom, famous osteopath of Kansas City, accompanied by Mrs. Edith V. Ward, owner of Zanja Hills estate at Mentone, California, spent Tuesday night in Ukiah and called on Mrs. Olive E. Busch at her home on north State street. Dr. Purdom, in company with her sister, the late Dr. Zudie Purdom, has been making annual motor trips to California for a number of years. Mrs. Busch met them in Ukiah several years ago and the frienship has been maintained ever since.

While on their way home from California, in October, 1933, Dr. Zudie Purdom suffered a stroke of paralysis at Yuma, Arizona, and was in a hospital at Phoenix 10 days before returning to Kansas City where she passed away December 5. She was the first woman appointed to the state board of osteopathic examiners. She was secretary of the Missouri Oteopathic association for many years and held the office of president of the grand chapter of the Axis club, an organization of women osteopaths. She came of a brilliant family of doctors. Her mother, the late Dr. Theodosia Purdom, practiced in Kansas City many years ago.

Dr. Hezzie Purdom practiced for several years in Paris and Rome and numbered among her patients, princes and rulers and some of the most scintillating stars of the silver screen. She studied for a time in the clinic of the famous Viennese surgeon, Dr. Lorentz.

Mrs. Ward travelled on the boat with Mr. and Mrs. William Bromley of Ukiah on the occasion of their return trip through the Panama canal and up the Atlantic coast a few years ago. Mr. and Mrs. Bromley were out of their home for a short time Wednesday morning and failed to see Mrs. Ward. They professed keen regret over missing their former travelling companions.

LAKEPORT W. C. T. U.

The guest list of the Women's Christian Temperance Union lawn party held on the lawn of the John Crump home at Lakeport last week included visitors from Ukiah and Willits. On the program was Miss Grace Reed of Ukiah, who delighted the folks assembled with one of her choice readings. One hundred were in attendance.

PASSED SUNDAY IN POTTER

Mrs. Louise Bernhard, Mrs. Mabel Smith and Mrs. Olive E. Busch spent Sunday afternoon in Potter Valley where they visited at the home of Mrs. Anna Praeger and Mrs. J. W. Elstun.

Candlelight Setting For Ganter-Rains Wedding

The following account of the wedding of Miss Florence Ganter and Stanley Douglas Rains at Napa was taken from a Napa paper of last Monday:

In a beautiful floral setting lighted by dozens of white tapers, the vows of Miss Florence Gertrude Ganter, who at one time lived in Napa, and Mr. Stanley Douglas Rains of Ukiah were taken Sunday afternoon. The wedding was solemnized at the home of the bride's aunts, the Misses Nelle and Berd Ganter, at 629 Randolph street in Napa at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, and it was a double ring service.

The large windows of the living room were covered with an arc-shape wall of greens, interwoven with coral gladioli. At the base were coral hydreanga arranged in garden effect. White tapers in eleven-point candelabra burned at each end while a seven-point was placed in the center. The hall and other rooms were filled with gladioli and acantha lighted by candle.

Rev. Correll Julian of the Methodist church officiated at the ceremony and there were thirty-five relatives and intimate friends present.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, Albert R. Ganter of Ukiah. Her wedding gown was of white silk net made over white satin and ended in a slight train. A bertha-effect of ruffles trimmed the neck and formed the hemline of the frock, and the sleeves were puffed. In her hair she wore a tiara of gardenias and she carried a shower bouquet of gardenias bouvardias.

Mrs. Vivian Ganter Bowers, sister of the bride, was her only attendant. She wore pale blue georgette finished with a sheer lace crepe and she carried tallsman roses.

Gerald and Thomas Bowers, four-year-old twin nephews of the bride were ring bearers and they carried the tiny gold circles, to be worn a lifetime by the happy couple, on satin pillows. They were dressed in white suits and had boutonniers of gardenias.

Clarence Ganter of Napa, cousin of the bride, was best man.

Mrs. Watt Smith played the wedding march to announce the approach of the wedding party and Mrs. Zora Money sang, "I Love You Truly."

After the wedding, luncheon was served at Cedar Gables, where long tables were decorated with bouquets of pink stocks and gypsophelia. Pink tapers were supported in pink crystal holders and the shades were drawn so that the lighting effect might come completely from the candles.

The guests reassembled at the Ganter home for the wedding reception, and at a later hour refreshments were served.

The newlyweds have gone south on their honeymoon and will be gone several weeks. For travelling the bride wore a frock of navy blue triple sheer and white accessories.

The bride formerly resided at the home of her aunts here and graduated from the Central school. She received her further education at Ukiah and graduated from San Francisco Teachers' College, later taking additional courses at the University of California. She has been art teacher in the Mendocino schools for the past several years and is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert L. Ganter of Ukiah.

Mr. Rains is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Rains of Ukiah and he is engaged in business in San Francisco. They will establish their home there until September when Mrs. Rains will return to Redwood Valley, Mendocino county, where she is to teach the coming term.

Mrs. Eversole's Birth Anniversary Was Remembered

The home of Mrs. N. M. Anker was the scene last Tuesday afternoon of a party arranged by the hostess to celebrate the birthday of Mrs. K. C. Eversole, the guest list including Mrs. Eversole, Mrs. A. L. Harris, Mrs. L. H. Foster, Mrs. H. E. Davis, Mrs. E. A. Eversole and Miss Esther Redwine.

The luncheon table decorations were carried out in yellow with an old-fashioned bouquet gracing the center, and following the luncheon the guests repaired to the living room where Mrs. Eversole was presented with beautiful and useful gifts from each of the ladies present.

Decorations of the living room were provided by the profuse use of gladiolas, their beauty blending with the happy spirit of the occasion.

NEW TAXES LEVIED TO MEET EXPENSES

$117,500,000 Additional Money Raised to Meet Deficit; Local Assessment Lower

2-YEAR PROGRAM

Agriculture Does Not Suffer By Comparison; Assessment Load Distributed

By RALPH TAYLOR
Executive Secretary, Agricultural Council of California

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second in a series of articles by Ralph H. Taylor, executive secretary of the Agricultural Council of California, analyzing the work of the 1935 legislature as it affects the farmer and the general public.

If you're an average taxpayer, paying your pro rata of the cost of state government, California's colossal state tax program for the coming biennial period will cost you nearly $100 per year!

Roughly, your contributions to state government will be "upped" approximately $25 annually by the new tax proposals which were enacted by the 1935 legislature.

But your local taxes—if you happen to be a common property owner—should be materially reduced, due to the shift of public utility tax revenues from the state to county treasuries.

Briefly sketched, such is the story of California's new record-breaking $376,000,000 state budget, translated into terms of the individual.

Levying new taxes to a total of $117,500,000 for the two-year period to cancel existing deficits, offset revenue losses and close the gap between income and outgo, the legislature tapped the pocketbooks of approximately 2,000,000 taxpayers—virtually every wage-earner in the state.

And here's what you must pay, providing you are one of the unsung army of 2,000,000:

A 3% sales tax, instead of a 2½% tax, but with exemptions on certain foodstuffs; $35,500,000 estimated increase in state's revenues.

A $12,000,000 tax on your drinks, hard liquors preferred.

A $4,000,000 tax on your purchases in chain stores, unless the governor exercises his power of veto.

Increases in bank and corporation franchise taxes totaling $17,000,000.

Approximately $3,000,000 increase in inheritance taxes.

More than $10,000,000 in additional sales tax, due to tightening up of the law to prevent evasions.

An income tax of $21,000,000—one-fourth of the federal rates.

A state automobile tax of $1.75 per $100 on assessed valuation, estimated to yield $15,000,000. This, however, is in lieu of present personal property taxes on automobiles.

Total, $117,500,000 for the two-year period.

On the right side of the ledger, however—at least from the standpoint of the farmer and common property owners generally— is the fact that the legislature refused to levy a state ad valorem, or direct property tax. The state automobile tax, in effect, is an indirect ad valorem, it is true, but in actual operation it will probably be far less dangerous than an actual state property levy.

The danger to the farmer and other holders of real property in the ad valorem tax, if it had once been established as a state tax source, would have been the constant threat of rate increases whenever the state felt the need of additional revenus.

To California agriculture, the new state tax program is probably less objectionable than to most groups, for the simple reason that many of the new tax measures will serve to distribute the load. The average California farmer, for example, will not be hard-hit by the new income tax, with its rates of from 1 to 15%, as farm net income is exceedingly low. Nor will the farmer, except in rare instances, be greatly burdened by the liquor tax, or the inheritance tax.

The farmer will undoubtedly pay a good portion of the new revenues to be raised by the sales tax, however, with the increase in rate far more than offsetting any savings due to the exemption of staple foodstuffs. And the boosted sales tax rate, together with other amendments to broaden its application and prevent evasions, will provide nearly half of the new income to be raised.

Next week, "Social Legislation and Unemployment Relief."

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Michelson and Mr. and Mrs. Milt Leedom of Santa Rosa were in Ukiah last Monday visiting friends in their former home town. Michelson and Leedom, both previously employed by Ukiah newspapers, are now members of the Santa Rosa Press Democrat mechanical crew.

Only One New Game Law Effective Now

With a single exception none of the many changes made in the Fish and Game code by the last legislature go into effect until the ninety-day period following adjournment runs out, which this year means September 15.

The exception is the bill prohibiting the use of fresh trout spawn for bait. This was passed with an emergency clause and became a law as soon as signed by the governor.

Hard Ball League Winners Hangs On Third Series Game

The Lions evened the series by taking Talmage by a score of 6 to 5 at the municipal diamond Sunday afternoon. Though close, the game was marked by some ragged ball. Each team made two errors and several lapse of judgment were shown. The best bit of fielding was contributed by Busch, Lion shortstop, when he knocked down Stewart's hard hit ball through the box and stopped a Talmage rally in the second. Johnston, Talmage pitcher, hit three for four to take the day's batting honors. Giles lifted one over the left field fence scoring Sousa ahead of him in the first.

The score was tied at five all from the fifth until the last of the ninth when Sousa doubled to score Burgess with the winning run. The Lions scored a run in the second and third without the aid of a hit, both times through attempted double steals on which errors were made.

Score:	R	H	E
Lions	6	7	2
Talmage	5	8	2

Batteries—Lions, Soinila and Burgess; Talmage, Johnston and Mosna.

The third and deciding game, originally scheduled to follow the day's first game Sunday, was postponed, when the first game took over two hours to complete. It will probably be played on July 21, the first date open after existing obligations have been fulfilled.

Laytonville Again Hurls Her Defy at Fort Bragg's Nine

LAYTONVILLE, July 3.—Because Laytonville ranks low in population is no reason why the teams of the so-called cities of Mendocino county should refuse to play ball with them. This state of affairs actually exists. The Fort Bragg team has been challenged repeatedly and always makes some kind of excuse. The real reason is the knowledge that Laytonville has by far the fastest and best baseball team in Mendocino county and have lost only one game out of the 31 games played during the past two seasons and have crossed bats with some of the best amateur teams of San Francisco. San Francisco teams are broad minded enough to play with little Laytonville, who has always found them to be good sports and good loosers.

The only game lost was at Point Arena, Sunday before last, when they were over-confident. Even then the margin was very close.

Next Sunday, July 7, our invincible team will cross bats with the Talmage team, at either that place or Ukiah. The Talmage team has now beaten every team in the county seat section and this game might properly be called a county championship series. If you want to see action don't miss this game.

Laytonville's pitcher, Otis Rockey, played with the Oakland Seals for several seasons. He can throw all kinds of balls; some of them look as if they were hardly moving and then they shoot up like they came out of a canon. They also have another player who played with coast professional teams.

Fort Bragg: Once more Laytonville challenges you for a game on any diamond you may name and under any fair terms.

FAIR PLAY.

Blue Lake Resident Native of Calpella, Dead By Own Hand

The following story of the tragic death of a former wellknown resident of Calpella was taken from the Blue Lake Advocate of June 29:

Frank Green of this city ended his own life with a bullet through the head in front of his right ear Tuesday afternoon about 1:30 o'clock at the home of his sister, Mrs. Nellie Merryman, where he had resided for a number of years. He died while being taken to a hospital.

Deceased had been an invalid for several years and recently suffered considerably from a leg injury over which he brooded.

He was born in Calpella, Mendocino county, in 1869, being 63 years of age at the time of death. He leaves three sisters, Mrs. Nellie Merryman of Blue Lake, Mrs. Margaret Williamson of Calpella, and Mrs. Juno Mallory of Sebastopol; a daughter, Mrs. Marcus Gilmore of Ukiah, and three nieces, Mrs. Charles Crowden and Mrs. Ed. Crowden of Blue Lake, and Mrs. Charles Hillard of Sebastopol, and a granddaughter.

An inquest was held at the Todd funeral parlors in Arcata Thursday evening with Coroner Lloyd W. Wallace officiating.

Funeral services were held this Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Blue Lake Presbyterian church with Rev. S. C. Gilman officiating. Interment was made in Blue Lake cemetery under the direction of the J. A. Todd funeral parlors.

Frank Green was well liked in the community and possessed many friends who are deeply sorry for his tragic ending.

Sunday Services at Christian Church

Despite the fact that many are away we are having good attendance and happy gatherings. The morning sermon will be, "Christian Americanism and American Christianity. The choir will sing, "Lord of the Nations."

Christian Endeavorers will meet at 7 p. m. and the evening service begins at 8; the message will be short. The subject is "The Greatest Charter of Liberty."

Let all who believe in Christ find their way to some religious service. We invite you and promise a real welcome to visitors.

RALPH ISAACSON, Minister.

WHO CAN BEAT THIS RECORD?

Ukiah youngsters with more time on their hands than ways of spending it have found diversion in checking passing cars and some records have been made. Irvin Richey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Richey of north School street, last week counted 46 cars from as many different states in approximately four hours time. Is there a better record? or one that equals it in some other way?

Famous Dancing Beetle Is Known as Whirligig

Among the 3,500 British beetles is the whirligig, famous for dancing its way through life, writes Marcus Woodward the naturalist, in Pearson's Weekly. Though it can fly from pond to pond, it lives through most of the year on a pond's surface, and never thinks of moving without dancing. All the time whirligigs are alert for danger. Try to catch one; it sheers off as quick as light. Seriously alarmed, they dive, each carrying down between its legs a bubble of air on which it can subsist for a short while. This dive may clearly be seen, for the air bubble glitters like quicksilver. What sets the whirligigs whirligigging? A love-motive is naturally to be suspected. Each gay little male, in armor bright of steely blue, would impress his charms on a coy female by showing how he can outdance all rivals. There is method in the madness of the dance. The film on the surface of a pond's water holds many minute insects of the air, which have fallen into the pond and are too light to sink. On these the whirligigs prey. They dance for a living.

Principal Articles of Export Used as Barter

At the very earliest time of which there is record, and in remote places in later times, the principal article of export, by common consent and practice, was used as a third element or medium of exchange, says the Washington Star. Then any one having articles of commerce for exchange would first exchange them for the article used as a medium of exchange and afterwards exchange the medium for the article desired. Almost every stable article of commerce has at one time or another been used as such medium of exchange; as cattle in ancient Greece, Rome, and other pastoral countries; iron in Rome and other ancient and some medieval countries and until recently in Japan; tobacco in the Colony of Virginia; wheat and other grains in many agricultural states; lead and tin at times; and copper, silver and gold almost universally from ancient time to the present day. Iron bars are still used in trading with the natives in central Africa.

Crude Petroleum

Crude petroleum is not a standard product by any means, but varies in appearance and composition, depending upon its source, says a writer in the Chicago Tribune. Most of it can be described, however, as a black oil with a not very pleasant odor. Chemically, it is not the same kind of an oil as those of animal or vegetable origin. The latter are compounds of glycerin and fatty acids, both of which are in turn compounds of carbon, hydrogen, and oxygen. Petroleum consists chiefly of a mixture of hydrocarbons (compounds of carbon and hydrogen alone). Animal and vegetable oils are digestible and can be converted into soap by treatment with lye, while mineral oils possess neither of these properties.

Name "Nimrod" From Bible

Hunters are called Nimrods from Genesis 10:9 where Ham's grandson Nimrod is referred to as a "mighty hunter before the Lord." The preceding verse says that Nimrod "began to be a mighty one in the earth." Bible scholars are not agreed as to just what is meant by Nimrod's being a "mighty hunter before the Lord." Some commentators accept this description in the literal sense of one who hunts animals. But "gibbor," the Hebrew word translated, "hunter," in the Scriptures also means hero, and therefore some authorities interpret the phrase as signifying simply that Nimrod was a great warrior. At any rate, Nimrod has become the romantic name for hunter.—Detroit Free Press.

Effects of Paresis

Paresis may attack the brain or the spinal cord or both. The condition develops gradually. The victim undergoes a change of character, his normal traits tending to fly to their extremes. If he was economical, notes a writer in the Kansas City Star, he becomes a waster. If he was quiet and reserved, he becomes loud and exhibitionistic. Immoral tendencies develop. The victim often complains of headache, backache and dizziness. Later the speech thickens and handwriting changes distinctly.

Round Table Legends Live

Modern critics may doubt that King Arthur and his Knights of the Table Round ever existed, but in Tintagel, England, Arthurian legend is so real that a stone memorial hall has been erected to the monarch who is supposed to have led the Christian kings of Britain against the Saxons of Kent during the Sixth century. Tintagel is a lonely, wind swept village on the northwest coast of Cornwall.

Rural Families' Food Budget

Five tons of food annually, that's what the average American rural family consumes. To be exact, 9,571 pounds, says a Toledo scale company. Every ounce of it goes over scales several times in its course from its origin to the family table.

Antelope Poor Jumpers

Antelope are among the swiftest of our animals, but a steep rise of 4 feet, such as a rock or fence, completely baffles them. They are able to leap many feet on the level, but they can not jump high.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"There is none holy as the Lord: for there is none beside thee: neither is there any rock like our God." These words from I Samuel comprise the Golden Text to be used Sunday, July 7, in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, branches of The Mother Church, The First Chuerh of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon will be "God." Included among the Scriptural selections will be: "And Jesus answered him, The first of all the commandment sis, Hear, O Israel; The Lord our God is one Lord: And thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind, and with all thy strength: this is the first commandment. And the second is like, namely this, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself" (Mark 12:29-31 to period).

The following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, will also be included: "The first demand of this Science is, 'Thou shalt have no other gods before me.' This me is Spirit. Therefore the command means this: Thou shalt have no intelligence, no life, no substance, no truth, no love, but that which is spiritual. The second is like unto it, 'Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself' " (p. 467).

Speediest of Birds Can Fly 100 Miles Per Hour

Game birds, such as the quail, prairie chicken, ruffed grouse, snipe, mallard, black duck, spoonbill, pintail, wood duck, and pigeon, fly 60 feet a second, or at the rate of 40 miles an hour. Geese and brant in flight do 70 feet a second, or at the rate of 47 miles an hour. Redhead ducks and bluebills fly 85 feet a second, which is a rate of 57 miles an hour. Canvasback ducks attain a speed of 61 miles an hour in flying 90 feet a second. Blue-winged and green-winged teal are capable of 100 feet a second, a speed of 68 miles an hour.

Rapid as are the rates of flight of the above mentioned birds, says the Chicago Tribune, they are by no means the greatest for feathered flyers. Speediest of birds are credited with flying as fast as or faster than 100 miles an hour. The duck hawk, for instance, according to apparently authentic records collected by the American Museum of Natural History of New York, does well over 100 miles an hour, or more than 146 feet a second.

The rate of speed of birds on the wing depends a great deal on whether they are flying with or against the wind and on the velocity of the wind at the time. It is recalled that in a famous pigeon race in Europe in 1876 the winning birds flew 270 miles in 3¼ hours, flying at the rate of 83 miles an hour. All conditions were favorable for record speed. In the race of 1877 it took the pigeons 30 hours to fly the same 270 miles.

First Musical Art Forms in 1100, Writer Relates

Lacking concrete materials, music lagged behind the other fine arts until 1100, when the same spirit that was stimulating architecture began pervading music. Construction of definite musical art forms resulted. Music became measured, and the multiplicity of details which grew up showed definite proportions and relations each to each, says Lynne B. Greene, in the Kansas City Times.

A monk of St. Amands, Hucbald, is responsible for the staff in musical notation. This invention made a remarkable change and paved the way for part-music not heretofore used.

This system of harmonies Hucbald called organum, for they were played upon a large instrument of that name, unknown since the fall of Rome. In these harmonies a melody was supported by a second voice singing a third above or a fifth below.

In the Fifteenth century musical composition in its present form began, and early in the Eighteenth century composers became more numerous, many of whose names are household words today. Music, unlike painting and sculpture, scarcely can be said to be national in its schools. The great musicians belong to the world, and their compositions are familiar.

We are given a higher psychic that responds to the highest, truest and most beautiful in life. Music is one of the principal means through which nature is expressed.

Airplane Machine Gun Inventor

Roland G. Garros, French aviator, is credited with the invention of the synchronized airplane machine gun. He is known in France as the father of air dueling, which changed the mode of air fighting considerably. In February of the year 1914 he mounted a gun in such a position that it was able to fire through the propellor of an airplane, which was a mode of fighting. In 18 days he is credited with shooting down five enemy planes. He was brought down on the day of his last victory, April 19, 1915, and was taken prisoner by the Germans. He was unable to destroy his plane, which the Germans copied, and his invention was no longer a secret. He later escaped and returned to France. He was killed in aerial combat in October, 1918.

Worship the Buffalo

Experienced and hardened world travelers not infrequently giggle themselves into a state of hysterics when they get around to visiting the Todas of India, says the Detroit News. In cone-shaped temples the Todas bow down and worship the buffalo. The notion that the buffalo is sacred is only one of their many ideas. Among the Todas woman occupies a very inferior position and upon meeting man greets him by touching his feet with her forehead. On the other hand, polyandry prevails. It is customary for several brothers to share the same woman.

Speed of Comets

Comets do not have constant rates of travel, speeding up as they near the sun. Those that approach the sun closely attain speeds in that position as high as 300 miles a second, or more than a million miles an hour. Meteorites travel at speeds as great as 40 miles a second (144,000 miles an hour), but slow up when they invade the earth's atmosphere, striking the earth at rates of speed of from 400 to 500 feet a second.—Chicago Tribune.

Many Kinds of Sausages

While the number of kinds of sausages in common use in the United States may not be more than 50, at a fair in Germany a few years ago there were 1,785 distinct varieties entered.

LOOKING -at- WASHINGTON

mediate success or legislation.

Secretary Ickes, PWA administrator, issued a vigorous defense of his policies in his recent book, dedicated to President Roosevelt, just as Harry Hopkins seems to be the man of the hour insofar as spending the work relief fund is concerned. Mr. Ickes freely admits that mistakes were made but he insists that he has kept politics out of his organization, which allotted only $2,506,000,000 and had more than a billion of that tied by insurmountable legal difficulties. He points out that the prosperity level of pubic construction exceeded ten billions of dollars annually and that his sum was totally inadequate to end all unemployment. He insists that PWA kept an average of 500,000 men at work on construction sites in 1934 and provided jobs, directly and indirectly, for 2,000,000 more.

The general opinion is that the Republicans will put their faith next year in the conservatism of the past, without any effort to attach unto themselves dissatisfied Democrats, and that the Roosevelt strategy is a play to the left, which will line up all those that range from mild liberalism to extreme radicalism. The famous "grass roots" conference was taken as an indication of the attitude of the Republicans and the course of the president in the past two weeks has been ample sign of his policy. This practically means a continuation of the fight of 1932, with new personalities perhaps, but the same fundamental clash between those who believe in the old order and those who demand something different.

President Roosevelt, following the NRA decision, has insisted upon a broad program of legislation and congress has responded with a burst of speed that promises adjournment with almost a clean slate. The "must" list has been getting action, with many Republican votes scattered in support of various measures. As a general observation, the reader may put it down that the president will get what he wants, viewed as a whole, even if he has to accept some compromises.

The flurry over the proposed new tax legislation, which was at first regarded as a campiagn gesture by many business men, indicates that the plan will go through without serious objection. Moreover, the tax suggestion cuts the president definitely from any flirtation with the big business group, which has opposed him at almost every stage of his reform program. In fact, so-called big business, while anxious for recovery, was perfectly willing to wait on it until it came without obnoxious reform legislation.

A campaign on straightout lines, between Liberals and Conservatives, would cut party lines generally, with many Republicans voting liberal and many Democrats turning conservative. It would give a definite answer to what the American people want. If the conservatives win, as many think they will, the nation will head back towards the attitudes of the past but, if on the other hand, the president is again endorsed by the people, the impetus that it will give to his leadership will undoubtedly hasten what new dealers insist is an organized and orderly revolution.

With this line of battle definitely drawn, Republican leaders will attempt to "smoke out" Mr. Hoover by making him declare his position by stating definitely whether he is an actual candidate for the 1936 nomination or not. The activity of his friends in the south and west, it is contended, give color to the belief that he wants to run again. His opponents insist that this is keeping some Republicans from returning to the party, places barriers in the way of reorganization and definitely classifies the party as "too conservative." It is generally known that his name was not mentioned at the Springfield conference but, in the absence of outstanding contestants, certain leaders fear for strength of the Hoover candidacy. Indicative of the attitude of some Progressives, it is said that Senator Borah, expected to head the Idaho delegation to the next Republican National convention, will not attend if Mr. Hoover figures as a possible nominee.

Incidentally, Mr. Borah strongly supported the tax program set forth by President Roosevelt. Not only did he endorse it along with Progressive senators but, in a special statement, defended it against those who said it was a "share the wealth program." The Idahoan called it a "share-the-burden-of-the government" program, sound economcally, morally and, if wisely exercised, more conductive to recovery than the reckless voting of bonds.

The president's message, which surprised congress, urged revision of our tax system "toward progressive taxation of wealth and of income." He offered a three-point program: (1) the taxing of inheritance or gifts of great size; (2) the boosting of taxes on very large incomes, and (3) a graduated tax on corporation income, ranging from 10% to 16 per cent, instead of the flat 13% per cent now in place.

The president based his program on the principle that "wealth in the modern world does not come merely from individual effort; it results from a combination of individual effort and of manifold uses to which the community puts that effort," that "the ownership of wealth represents a great public interest and a great ability to pay."

Mrs. Charles Schwab of San Francisco was a guest of her mother, Mrs. F. C. Albertson, during the past week, having come to Ukiah with Mrs. Albertson, who was a recent visitor to her daughter in the city.

NOTE:—In the above tabulation of the tides the daily tides are given in the order of their occurence, commencing with the early morning tides in the left hand column and the succeeding tides as they occur. On some days but three tides occur, the fourth occuring on the following morning.

The column of heights gives the elevation of each tide above or below the level of the Coast Survey chart soundings. The numbers are always additive to the chart depth.

The data is practically the same for Point Arena Light, Navarro River Entrance, Little River Harbor, Mendocino Bay and Fort Bragg Landing. For Westport subtract 5 minutes from the time and for Shelter Cove add 0.8 ft. to high tide.

Grand Jury Demands Full Accounting of County Money Spent

1. During all of our deliberations we have held foremost in our minds the harassed condition of the taxpayer and the imperative need to lighten his tax burden.

Since this can be accomplished only by reducing the vast amount of taxpayers money expended by public officials, at the beginning of our labors our foreman appointed a committee to represent the Grand jury at the preliminary and final budget hearings before the board of supervisors. The foreman and secretary acted as ex-officio members of this committee and with the committee attended both budget hearings throughout.

We have little to show for our time and efforts in this matter, yet we firmly believe that all budget hearings should be a matter of first consideration by all Grand jury members and by all taxpayers as well, to the end that tax levies may be held to a minimum. In the final analysis it is the taxpayer's money that is being spent and his only relief in holding down expenditures is to fight to the last ditch every excessive expenditure before it is spent, and not to berate it after it is spent.

While we have admitted that we have little to show for our efforts to secure budget reductions, we must call to the attention of the several supervisors and the board of supervisors and all other county officials the fact that we are but the representatives of the taxpayers in this matter and that the taxpayers as a whole have about reached the limit of their endurance and patience. Unless, before setting the budget, the supervisors first give attention and study to the condition of the taxpayer and his ability to pay and then to set the total budget expenditures within this ability to pay, the time is not far away when the patience of the taxpayer will have passed all limits and that he will take matters in his own hands, possibly with grave consequences.

2. Inquiry into a contract between J. A. Barton and Mendocino county for the construction of Section 1, of Union Landing Hill road wherein J. A. Barton agreed to furnish all labor, culverts, materials, etc., brought forth the fact that Mendocino county had paid for all culverts and some other materials. Under advice from the district attorney a resolution, by this Grand jury, was forwarded to J. A. Barton calling upon him to repay Mendocino county the sum of $243.51 together with interest $51.14, a total of $294.65.

b. It has been shown that J. A. Barton did use, in the execution of a private contract and for private gain, one rock crusher and one power shovel belonging to Mendocino county and the Fourth road district. Under advice of the district attorney a resolution by this Grand jury was transmitted to J. A. Barton calling upon him to pay to Mendocino county the sum of $315.00 as a reasonable charge for the use of this equipment together with interest of $10.97, a total of $325.97.

c. There has been received from J. A. Barton, through the mails, and addressed to the secretary of this Grand jury, a cashiers check in the amount of $620.62, with a letter of transmittal stating that this cashier's check is in liquidation of the two claims of Mendocino county as set forth in the two preceding paragraphs. Since these two payments should have been made by Mr. Barton direct to the county auditor, the legal agent of the county in such matters, this Grand jury does not feel qualified to act as the agent of Mr. Barton in this matter and we hand you Cashier's Check No. 8305, drawn by the Savings Bank of Mendocino County, by O. R. Archer, assistant cashier and in the amount of $620.62, together with Mr. Barton's letter of transmittal and copies of the two resolutions of this Grand jury, which were forwarded to Mr. Barton for final disposition by the court, with the request that they be filed

3. A law which permits the district attorney, in counties employing no deputy district attorney, to leave his office and the county for a week, with no provision for leaving in charge a temporary deputy to take care of emergencies that may arise is, in our opinion, seriously in need of amendment.

4. We feel, or maybe we should say that we are made to feel, by certain county officials that the Grand jury is a more or less negligible institution and a nuisance, because they enter the offices seeking information in performance of their sworn duty. We believe that it cannot be too forcibly impressed upon county officials that their best safeguard against unjust criticism by the harassed taxpayer is through close cooperation with and courteous treatment of grand jurors.

We want to say that in the main that we have had a fine degree of cooperation with all county officials and special thanks is extended to Paul Mathews, county auditor, for the very great amount of time and help he has given us. But for the fact that these little uprisings of resentment on the part of officials on some occasions when Grand jury members have sought information leave a bad taste in the mouths of such members and are against the interests of both the taxpayers and such officials, we would not mention the matter at all.

5. On pages 17 and 18 of the report of Chas. H. Peterson Co. on the audit of the books of Mendocino county for the year ending June 30, 1934, are set forth certain recommendations for greater efficiency in certain offices.

We recommend to the board of supervisors that a careful study be made of these recommendations and that as soon as possible that such changes be made effective.

6. There are two groups of expenditures of taxpayers' money that count for two-thirds of all expenditures: (1) schools, (2) roads.

1. At present a great number of school expenses are borne by the state, but there is still a large amount of county taxes that goes into schools in the form of special taxes and interest on bonds.

State money is administered by local school boards and paid through the superintendent of schools office. We believe that a high degree of efficiency and every possible economy, considerate with good educational standards, should be exercised by the local boards in the expenditure of state money, because in the final analysis we, the local taxpayers, furnish this state money just as surely as we do the local taxes.

Local boards of school trustees should do everything in their power to reduce or abolish special taxes. And the superintendent of schools should carefully scrutinize every expenditure and constantly warn boards of trustees against careless and extravagant expenditures, to the end that all school costs may be reuced.

2. In our mind curtailment of road expenditures and more efficiency in making such expenditures offer us our greatest point for a reduction of taxes, and for this reason we have given road expenditures very close scrutiny.

We have gone very thoroughly into road expenditures in the Third and Fourth districts. Not because of any personal animosity but because these two districts set budgets of almost that of the other three.

In our report of February we went into the matter of the chaotic condition of the funds of the Third district. Mr. Rupe, who was responsible for this condition, and whose entire disregard of the interest of his constituents is no longer in office. His successor has assured us of an efficient administration. We therefore consider the matter of this district closed.

In the administration of the Fourth district we find many expenditures, which in our opinion are grossly extravagant and many operations poorly planned that we feel has cost the taxpayer more than they should.

The record shows that in November, 1931, Mr. Perkins, supervisor of the Fourth district, caused to be executed a contract with J. A. Barton, under which for the sum of $6000 the contractor agreed to deliver completed and including all culverts and other material, that road known as Section 1 of Union Landing Hill.

The records further show that for this contract J. A. Barton was paid $25,039.00, or the sum of $19,039.00 in excess of the contract price. And that he permitted Mendocino county to pay for culverts and other materials, which he had contracted to furnish. Although for this latter item of materials Mr. Barton has just this week repaid Mendocino county.

In this project there is considerable evidence that the engineer's estimates were in error and because of this and the nature and condition of the earth, that it was necessary in completing this road to excavate considerable more than the estimated yardage. However, the excess paid Mr. Barton for this contract over the contract price is so great, that in our opinion it requires further explanation.

In our opinion had this project been planned and executed in a business like manner and consistent with good engineering practice there would have been far less cost in excess of the contract price.

The survey and plans and specifications were made by an outside engineer and not by the county surveyor who legally should do this work and who might be held responsible for such gross errors. Plans were incomplete and the estimate of earth to be excavated must have been a wild guess as no cross section or mass sheets accompany the maps and plans.

There was no inspector on the job and any deviation from plans and specifications seem to have been made by the contractor with no written authority.

Good engineering practice dictates that before any but minor expenditures be made that full survey and complete plans and specifications and an estimate of cost be made by the county surveyor. The contract should be let on complete plans and specifications to which the contractor should be compelled to adhere. A competent inspector should be constantly on the site of construction. No changes or increased work should have been paid for unless sanctioned in writing by the county surveyor.

Good engineering and proper planning in advance would greatly reduce road costs in every district in this county. We have too many examples in this county of roads laid out by the old-time expert by "eye" or "water grade."

7. This Grand jury does not believe that the practice of several supervisors of renting equipment, of such a nature that it is used a considerable portion of the year, is economical.

If an individual can buy equipment and rent it to the county and can make a profit on such rentals the supervisors can most certainly buy such equipment, give it reasonable care and retain such profit.

On the other hand we believe it is poor business to buy equipment for which there is only occasional use and to allow the capital investment to stand idle the greater part of the time.

We believe that such casual equipment should be rented where possible or be bought by the county for the joint use of the five districts. And that projects requiring such equipment should be planned so that they do not overlap.

8. It is unlawful for any county official to sell or rent any property or render any services to the county, other than that for which elected.

We find that in the Fourth district that J. A. Barton, who is general foreman for that district under Mr. Perkins, owns considerable equipment, such as is in more or less constant use, and for which he receives large sums each year in rentals from Mendocino county. This same condition exists or has existed in greater or less degree in the other four districts.

We cannot find where this is strictly unlawful, but there is a grave doubt in our minds as to whether it is morally right and we do know that it lays the road open to possible abuses and that it does come in for the most severe criticism from taxpayers in general. Especially when equipment owned by foremen is being used when comparable county equipment stands idle.

We condemn this practice and recommend that it be discontinued and recommend to succeeding grand juries that legislation be sought to end this practice at the next session of the legislature.

9. We recommende to the board of supervisors that an ordinance be drawn setting forth a uniform scale of maximum rates to be paid for rental of road equipment. This recommendation is prompted by the facts as found in various warrants for rental of equipment in the several districts. In the Fourth district we find that J. A. Barton is receiving $25.00 per day for each of two 5-yard trucks when used. The county furnishes the gas and oil and Mr. Barton the driver. In the Second district we find where Guy Redwine is receiving $8.00 per day for a 3½-ton truck with extension frame and of sufficient capacity to move the gas shovel belonging to this district and that Mr. Redwine furnishes the gas and oil, but the district furnishes the driver.

10. Printing: In the publication of delinquent tax list by submitting to bids Tax Collector Davis has secured such publication for 1935 for $280.90 and in 1934 former tax collector, Volney Van Dyke paid $2094.40. Mr. Davis has secured a savings to the county of $1,813.50

It is fair to say that in 1934 the list contained 150 more names than 1935, but at the 1935 rate of 7½ cents per square would have cost but $23.00 additional. Mr. Davis is not compelled by law to submit this work for bids and has our highest commendation for doing so voluntarily, as requested by the Grand jury.

We hope that in submitting to bids of ballots and index to great register, as he has promised, that County Clerk Harry Burke can effect similar savings.

There is a lot of printing done of forms for the several county offices. Some of this is let to bids by the purchasing agent while some is placed directly by the county official. We recommend that wherever printing is required that copy and specifications be given to the purchasing agent and that said printing be let to bids through his office.

11. We have a purchasing agent in this county and who has proven in a number of cases to be economical. Too few of the purchases for Mendocino county go through his hands and we recommend that when anything is needed for the county that such department or officer submit his needs on a regular requisition form to the purchasing agent, and that such purchase be made only under a regular purchase order signed by him. This applies to road machinery and equipment as well as to all other purchases.

12. We have returned one indictment.

Signed,
Frank C. Clarke, Foreman,
Elmer Purdy, Secretary.

Recreation League Soft Ball Results

The season's first "crucial" proved to be all that could be hoped for when the Natives kept their record clean Friday by taking the previously undefeated Home-Owned team by a score of 2 to 0 in the league's best game so far. All the scoring was concentrated in the last of the first, when the winners made two runs on three doubles. Both teams played errorless ball in the field and made numerous snappy plays. The evening's fielding feature was a shoestring catch of the last Native batter's blow to short left by Ivey, Home Owned's newly drafted man. There were 23 putouts made in the game on fielded fly balls. Shoemake of the Sons was the only one to get more than one hit, getting a single and a double in three times at bat.

Score:	R	H	E

Batteries—Sanchez and Kehoe; Balzarini and Brown.

The second game was far below the opener in the caliber of ball played, the support of both pitchers being uncertain. Redwood had one big inning, the fourth, when they scored five runs on three hits and four errors. Soinila repeatedly got himself in trouble by his wildness, issuing nine walks during the game. Olavi Soinila with a triple and a single in three times at bat was the leading hitter.

Score:	R	H	E
Redwood	9	8	3
Calpella	6	7	6

Batteries—O. Soinila and Deghi; Sowerwine and L. Trimeloni.

The Lions B forced the Giants to wait ten minutes while they raked up a team from the stands, and then to add insult to injury won the Monday game by a score of 9 to 1. The contest completely lacked sensational features, except for the seven-run sixth-inning rally of the Lions on two hits, three errors and two walks. Harvill of the Lions hit two for two as well as drawing two walks.

Score:	R	H	E
Lions	8	8	2
Giants	1	5	6

Batteries—Mahurin and Austini; Patterson and Archer.

The Home-Owned Stores kept their chances for the first half championship alive by a precarious one-run margin through a 3 to 2 victory over the Lions A team. If Redwood should turn back the Natives Friday these three teams will be tied in the race. The game was a thriller, though not as well played as many of this season's contests. The winners were outhit, 8 to 5, but made the most of their blows while Woodruff, their pitcher was able to keep the Lions hits scattered except in the second when the losers scored their two runs on three straight hits. Tribuzio for Home-Owned completed a double play unassisted while Shultz also of the winners contributed the most snappy bit of fielding on a hard hit ground ball. Four players hit twice during the game.

Home-Owned	3	5	0
Lions A	2	8	3

Batteries—Joe Woodruff and Brown; Ericksen and Smith.

Willits Frontier Days Show a Nice Balance on Hands

Gate receipts during the last of of the Frontier Days celebration were $1600. After expenses are paid there will be a balance on hand of between $500 and $800.

WILLITS, July 2.—Our Frontier Days celebration started today and promised to be very successful. The town is full of strangers and the restaurants and hotels are doing a splendid business. The saloons are also well patronized and at times the crowd is three deep in front of all bars. Young America started several days ago with all kinds of noisemakers and they sure are having one grand and glorious time. Cowboys and cowgirls with their ten-gallon hats, riding breeches, chaps and spurs, standing in high heel boots are very much in evidence and make a colorful appearance with their guady bandanas.

The parade today was very good. There was a long string of horses and several new features. The Townsend O. A. R. P. attracted more than a little attention. It was in two autos, the first was one of the oldest and most dilapidated in the community and was filled with poorly dressed old people and bore the label of 1935, and the other the latest streamlined Chevvie, with well dresed people, bearing the legend of 1936 and thereafter.

A large number of broncs, wild steers and other rodeo animals were brought here from Sacramento and are said to be the best of their kind. The owner furnishes rodeo stock for most of the exhibitions now held in this part of the state. Some splendid outside riders are here and the prospects are for a splendid show.

There will be a public dance every night at the pavilion in the park and on the night of the Fourth we will have an extra parade which will end up at the park and this will terminate in a genuine mardi gras. A large number of people have already prepared wierd and novel costumes and revelry will reign supreme.

On Wednesday night we will have five 4-round boxing contests at the rodeo grounds. C. C. Brewer, the Ukiah promoter, arranged this exhibition and will bring up his ring from the county seat. This will be the first exhibition of its kind held here for a great many years and is sure to attract a big crowd.
